

Chinese Teacher 2018-2019 School Year (Part Time)

Boulder Valley Waldorf School in Niwot, Colorado, has a current opening for a dynamic Chinese teacher, to teach classes for Grades 1 through 7. The classes are scheduled approximately four days per week between 11:00 and 3:00. We can be somewhat flexible about which days and times work for you. The position pays $31.75 per teaching period (teaching periods are slightly less than one hour) and there are 12 teaching periods per week during the school year (about three per day).

The ideal candidate is familiar with the Waldorf approach to language instruction and speaks Mandarin Chinese at the level of a native speaker. We value well-developed skills in teaching a variety of ages in a developmentally appropriate manner, strong rapport with students and parents, and excellent communication.

Founded in 1993, BVWS is a Pre-KG through Eighth Grade independent not-for-profit school. We offer a full Waldorf curriculum, including two world languages, woodworking, handwork, movement, instrumental and orchestral music, and chorus. All our full-time teachers are Waldorf-trained, and represent a rich spectrum of life experiences along with their strengths as Waldorf educators.

Our school is set on a five-acre campus within 38 acres of school-owned agricultural land. Adjacent to two very livable and thriving medium-sized cities, our school campus provides a wonderful rural atmosphere for festivals and community life, and contributes substantially to a rich curriculum supported by enthusiastic and experienced teachers, devoted, hard-working parents, and a healthy, energetic student body.

Teachers will need to pass a fingerprint background check and must possess the legal right to work in the United States (we are unable to sponsor visas).
